Do You Open Your Mouth

Like a young bird and gulp down whatever food or medicine may be offered you? Or, do you want to know something of the composition and character of that which you take into your stomach whether as food or medicine?

Most intelligent and sensible people now-a-days insist on knowing what they employ whether as food or as medicine. Dr. Pierce believes they have a perfect right to insist upon such knowledge. So he publishes, broadcast and on each bottle-wrapper, what his medicines are made of and verifies it under oath. This he feels he can well afford to do because the more the ingredients of which his medicines are made are studied and understood the more will their superior curative virtues be appreciated.

For the cure of woman's peculiar weaknesses, irregularities and derangements, giving rise to frequent headaches, backache, dragging-down pain or distress in lower abdominal or pelvic region, accompanied, ofttimes, with a debilitating, pelvic, catarrhal drain and kindred symptoms of weakness, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a most efficient remedy. It is equally effective in curing painful periods, in giving strength to nursing mothers and in preparing the system of the expectant mother for baby's coming, thus rendering childbirth safe and comparatively painless. The "Favorite Prescription" is a most potent, strengthening tonic to the general system and to the organs distinctly feminine in particular. It is also a soothing and invigorating nervine and cures nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuralgia, hysteria, spasms, chorea or St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing nervous symptoms attendant upon functional and organic diseases of the distinctly feminine organs.

A host of medical authorities of all the several schools of practice, recommend each of the several ingredients of which "Favorite Prescription" is made for the cure of the diseases for which it is claimed to be a cure. You may read what they say for yourself by sending a postal card request for a free booklet of extracts from the leading authorities, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., and it will come to you by return post.

HEALTHY PLANTS

Require the Most Careful Attention as Well as Good Soil.

Did you ever see a rosebush which—despite the most beneficent environment of soil—of sunshine—and of atmosphere—seemed never to achieve a healthy growth.

A ton of manure will not help a plant that has a canker eating out its heart.

You must destroy the cause before you can remove the effect.

You cannot cure Dandruff and Baldness by rubbing on hair lotions, and rubbing in vaseline, etc.

You must look to the cause of the trouble—it's a germ at the roots of your hair which causes it to fall out.

Two sizes—50 cents and $1.00.

ORCHARD'S STARTLING CONFESSION.

Harry Orchard, whose true name is Alfred Horsley and who admits he planted the bomb that instantly killed ex-Governor Frank Steunenberg, of Idaho, a year ago last November, and who says that William D. Haywood, Charles H. Moyer and George A. Pettibone, respectively, secretary, president and executive board members of the Western Federation of Miners, planned the murder and hired him to do it, began in Boise City, Idaho, yesterday, what is probably the most extraordinary recital of crime ever made in a courtroom.

Orchard occupied the stand three hours and a-half, and before his story had been in the course of telling for an hour it was clear that if it can be corroborated in its essential features the State will be able to establish beyond a doubt the charges of conspiracy to do wholesale murder upon the chief opponents of the methods of the Western Federation of Miners.

Orchard first told the jury that he touched off the fuse when the Bunker Hill and Sullivan Mill was blown up at Wardner in 1899, but his story did not touch Haywood and his co-defendants until it came to deal with the Cripple Creek troubles, on and after 1903.

In Cripple Creek, he said, he planted the powder and arranged the trap by which Supt. McCormick and Foreman Beck, of the Indicator Mine, were blown to death, and was hired to do it by W. F. Davis, president of one of the Cripple Creek miner's unions. Davis promised him $500, and later on, in Denver, Haywood paid him $300. Moyer, he said, paid him smaller sums. Haywood, he said, told him that it was a good job, and that he was glad to get some of the bosses instead of ordinary scabs.

Later on, Orchard said he met Haywood and Pettibone again at the headquarters of the federation, and that they told him that they wished he would work up some scheme to assassinate Governor Peabody. They said that they could not get justice in the courts, that Moyer was being held under martial law, and that the only way to get justice was to take the law into their own hands.

"They told me where the governor lived," added the witness, "and told me to watch him and learn his habits and see what the chances would be of being able to assassinate him."

Orchard said Haywood got Steve Adams to help him, and the pair watched the governor's house and found out that he often came home in the evening in a carriage.

Pettibone gave them some sawed-off shotguns and some shells loaded with buckshot. This was early in the summer of 1904. Adams and Orchard hid across the street from Governor Peabody's one night waiting for the governor to come home in a carriage as usual. They saw a carriage coming, and as it stopped in front of the governor's house they ran up behind it ready to shoot.

"Then," said Orchard, "three women got out, but the governor wasn't there." One of the women was the governor's daughter. They next planned to kill the governor with a bomb, but, according to Orchard, Haywood said they had better lie low for a while, as the executive board of the federation was in session and they might all get arrested. Thus Peabody escaped.

The killing of Lyte Gregory, who worked for the Mine Owners' Association, was not detailed. Orchard said that Pettibone put him up to that, saying that Gregory had been active against the union and that it would be a good thing to make an example of him.

Orchard told how he and Adams tracked Gregory from one saloon to another in Denver in May, 1904, until they met him face to face in the street.

"He sort of reached into his pocket as if for a gun," said Orchard, "and I shot him three times with a shotgun. I got $100 the next day, after I talked with Haywood, Pettibone, and Jack Simpkins."

The blowing up of the station at Independence, when fourteen non-union men were killed, was described in great detail by Orchard. He said that he and Adams did the job together. There was a convention of Western Federation of Miners going on in Denver at that time, and there was so much fighting in the organization that Orchard said Haywood told him he feared it would be broken up.

"Haywood said," declared the witness, "that if we pulled off something in the Cripple Creek district he believed the convention would finish up its business promptly and go home."

Haywood, Pettibone, and Simpkins were all present when the Independence outrage was planned. The witness said he told how he and Adams planted the powder under the platform and arranged a contrivance by which acid would set off the explosive when the cork was pulled out of a bottle in the bomb.

He and Adams concealed themselves at a distance from the station, and when the train bearing the nonunion mine workers approached, together pulled on a wire that released the cork from the acid bottle and set off the explosive.

"What was the effect?" asked Mr. Hawley.

Tomorrow, Friday, Is REMNANT DAY.

Bargain Day. "Bargain" is generally understood to mean more than ordinary value, and nowhere is this better exemplified than here, especially on Friday, when extraordinary efforts are put forward by every manager in the house to rid his or her particular department of all remnants—odds and ends, short lengths, broken sizes, and assortments, &c., thus insuring to shoppers the worth of their money many times over.

Bargain opportunities will abound tomorrow—and the goods are just such things as are needed for personal use and the home.

NOTE.—In many instances there are only one or two articles or pieces, and we do not advertise these, because they are generally sold early, and late comers are disappointed. There are hundred of such things usually, and they constitute some of the best bargains, but they are secured, of course, by the first comers.

WOODWARD & LOTHROP.

"It blowed up the depot and killed twelve or fourteen men, I believe," answered Orchard, pleasantly.

After the job was done Haywood told him it was a good thing. It settled the differences in the federation convention, all right. There was no more trouble. All the officers were promply re-elected and delegates hustled for home.

With the recital of his attempt to blow up Frank Bradley in San Francisco, Orchard's story came to an end for the day.

Alexandria Gazette
SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS
AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

THURSDAY EVENING, JUNE 6, 1907.

A DISPATCH from Raleigh, N. C., says that at the banquet given in honor of Speaker Cannon and a score of other guests after the commencement exercises at Guilford College Mr. Cannon made a speech in which he declared the South's treatment of the negro in politics was the only proper one. He is reported as having said that the South was handling this question precisely as it ought to be handled; that the southern people alone grasped the negro problem fully and that he felt they ought to be given a free hand. He highly complimented the regulation of the negro franchise, it is asserted, which in North Carolina was by a constitutional amendment ratified by the people in 1899, and which cut down the negro vote from 120,000 to something like 5,000. He also, it is declared, read a positive and strong declaration in favor of States' rights. So vigorous and so overpoweringly prosouthern was Mr. Cannon's talk, says Mr. Varner, that all were astounded, and he is informed that Mr. Cannon's private secretary implored the newspapermen present not to print it and they kept aloof. It is given out by a prominent Lexington man who was at the banquet, that Mr. Cannon, if he uttered the words ascribed to him, merely reiterated what has been said before by other prominent republicans.

THE LOCAL OPTION question has proven too deep thus far for Bishop Coleman, of the Episcopal Diocese of Delaware, and he confessed to the annual convention in Georgetown, Del., yesterday, that he was undecided both as to the course he should recommend to voters and as to what course of action he himself should pursue when the issue of license or no license is voted on next fall. He said:

> There can be no question that this is among the most important matters that can be determined by a general election. And yet it is, to my mind, one that does not admit of that instantaneous decision either one way or another. I am quite ready to acknowledge the force of the argument as to the danger of the precedent thus allowed, whereby our several communities may have the right to interfere with any branch of business hitherto conducted under lawful authority. I also recognize the force of the argument founded upon the experience of other States where such prohibition has been allowed; especially that part of the argument based again on the alleged existence and increase of numerous places where this traffic is conducted illegally and harmfully. Then, on the other hand, I need no facts nor arguments to persuade me of the incalculable and widely diffused evils resulting from the indiscriminate and unrestricted sale of intoxicating liquors. Almost any lawful expedient might seem to be preferable to the really awful state of affairs existing because of drunkenness.

THE CZAR OF RUSSIA has for a long time been in a danger zone, and if dispatches from St. Petersburg state actual facts no one pays a greater penalty for greatness than the Emperor Nicholas. It is now said that the Fourth squadron of the Hussars of the Guard, stationed at Tsarskoe-Selo, to which place the imperial family had just removed, has revolted against the discipline which recently had been instituted by a new commander. The trouble for a time threatened to spread through the entire regiment, but the mutinous troops were surrounded and disarmed by other troops, and order was restored without bloodshed. The trouble, however, has probably been only temporarily allayed. Apart from enemies within and without, the imperial family is now suffering anxiety from the prevalence of a dangerous disease which has appeared in the palace diphtheria having broken out in the Czar's family. One report states that most of his majesty's children are affected. It is hoped that their convalescence will be speedy.

THE testimony of Harry Orchard, alias Horsley, before the court in Boise City, Idaho, yesterday, furnished the most sensational reading that has appeared in the newspapers for a long time. The confession of this wholesale murderer, in which he implicates certain associates, if substantiated by other evidence or circumstances, tells of a trail of blood which cries for vengeance. The story of his crime, if true, paints him the most unprincipled murderer that ever evaded a noose. His cool recitals of shooting men in cold blood with shotguns, picking them off at work with long-range rifles, blowing them, unshriven and unprayed for, into eternity, placing powerful acids in milk that the man who he admitted he never personally knew, might drink and die and destroying thousands of dollars' worth of property with deadly bombs strike well-disposed people with horror. Orchard says he killed for hire. He had no conscience in the matter. "Point out the man, show the money, and I'll do the rest," was his motto. He confesses to the murder of sixty persons.

THE communication of State Senator Lewis H. Machen, published in today's Gazette, calls attention to an important subject, and is a reminder that under present conditions the object of the new constitution of the State, compelling all who vote to pay their taxes personally and six months before an election, is likely to miscarry from the fact that the Legislature has failed to take proper steps to make the same operative. The Senator suggests that a law should be enacted debarring all from voting who fail to pay their taxes nine months previous to the election at which application for permission to vote may be made.

IT IS said that during the turbulence which accompanied the reformation that a certain prelate, when his attention was called to the utterances of an enthusiastic dissenter, suggested that he be made a bishop as he believed this course would silence the reformer. The government, it seems, acts occasionally on similar lines. T. V. Powderly, who a few years ago was the recognized head of the laboring element in this country, was yesterday appointed chief of the new division of information established in connection with the immigration bureau of the Department of Commerce and Labor, at a salary of $3,500 a year.

PARTS OF Maryland, Delaware, Pennsylvania and New Jersey were visited by violent storms yesterday. There were high winds, thunder and lightning, hail and rain. Considerable damage is reported in some places.

From Washington.

Washington, June 6.

The bill in equity which the Department of Justice has under preparation for the smashing of authracite coal-carrying railroad trust may be filed within two weeks. From an unquestioned authority it is learned that the complaint will be directed against the following railroads: Philadelphia and Reading; Delaware, Lackawanna and Western; Central Railroad and New Jersey; New York, Susquehanna and Western and Erie and Lehigh Valley. It will be charged that these railroad companies have been parties to contracts and agreements and to a combination for the pooling of interstate freight; that they have been guilty of fixing transporation rates on anthracite coal, and of unlawful discrimination, and that this combination is one in restrain of trade and is a conspiracy in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law. It will also be charged that by reason of the combination the maintenance of transporation rates has been subordinated to the maintenance of the price of anthracite. One of the charges is that a black list is kept of retail dealers who scale the regulations prices of coal and that stern and swift punishment follows each offence. It will be charged that in each case the coal company has had for their president the president of railroad companies and for controlling directors, the directors or employes of the railway company.

Representative E. W. Roberts, of Massachusetts, asked the President today to receive a delegation of his constituents, headed by Mayor Charles Neill Barney, of Lynn, Mass., who desire to talk over with the President the massacre of Armenians by the Turks. On account of his early departure, the President was not able to grant the favor but requested that the delegation take up the subject with the State Department. It is understood that the Lynn delegation desires to have representatives of the United States at The Hague conference urge the other powers to take more stringent measures to protect the Armenians.

Trust busting will be the theme of a conference to be held at the White House tomorrow. It promises to be one of the most important discussions of the present administration. Not only will all the questions arising out of the investigation by the Interstate Commerce Commission into the Harriman roads be gone into but the case of the coal carrying railroads will be considered. It is stated on the best authority that reports purporting to emanate from the White House to the effect that the President had decided that Harriman should be pulled into the court was incorrect. Besides the Interstate Commerce Commissioners who will attend tomorrow's conference are included Attorney General Bonaparte and Secretary Root.

As soon as Pete, the bulldog guardian of the White House, for some time past a patient at a local dog hospital, heard that Buckeye brindle of Celina, O., had arrived to take his place at the executive mansion, he rose from a sick bed to resume his duties. This accounted for his patrolling the White House grounds today for the first time within a month, still bearing the marks of battle with Rolla, the hound that put him out of business, and with a woefully crippled leg that may make him limp for life. The Celina dog is undergoing speed and endurance tests, under the tutleage of one of the colored attendants of the White House.

In the "cotton leak" case, against Holmes, today, Assistant Statistician C. C. Clark, formerly chief clerk under Holmes, told of the methods of preparing crop reports. He said the reports were received at the department usually one day before the crop condition was made public. "Some, however," he said, "would reach the office two days before publication. They would come under special delivery stamps and be handed to the statistician.

Fresh eggs $2 a dozen; milk 35 cents a quart; bacon 35 cents a pound; butter 50 cents a pound; flour $6 a hundred pounds. These are the prices that Consul G. C. Cole, of Dawson, reports to the government must be paid in the Yukon territory of Alaska. "There is no article sold for less than 25 cents, no matter how trivial," says the consul, "as there is no money in circulation of a less denomination than that amount." He predicts that prices will remain high until a trunk line railroad from the open sea into the heart of the Yukon valley is constructed. He suggests that such a railroad, if constructed, be under the control of the government, so as to keep down excessive freight and passenger rates.

As a token of appreciation of the President's course in calling for aid to the sufferers from famine in northern Japan, the President was presented today by W. E. Lampe, chairman of the International Relief Committee, with a handsome piece of silk woven cloth. The cloth was sent by the mayor of Shiroishi.

Going at a speed of between twenty and thirty miles an hour, Southern possenger train No. 2 leaving Nashville at 10:30 a. m., plunged down a 15-foot embankment at Black Branch, near Lebanon, Tenn., thirty-three miles east of Nashville, shortly after 11 o'clock yesterday morning, injuring fifty-seven persons out of a total of sixty on board. Two passenger coaches, the mail and baggage cars left the track. One report says the wreck was caused by spreading rails, and another that the front trucks of the engine jumped the track and threw off the baggage coach and two passenger coaches.

The lockout went into effect this morning, and the men, when they went to work, were informed that their services were no longer needed, for the present, at least. This action was approved and indorsed by the two Master Builders' associations, integral parts of the Employers' Association, in joint meeting last night.

The New York Stock Market.

New York, June 6.—The market made a sharp contrasts to conditions yesterday, and prices made material gains all around the room, with more life than has been shown in a long period. Price movements were all to higher figures, gains being made in all stocks traded in ranging from fractions up to over 2 points. There was some realizing sales after the first hour that caused moderate recessions from the early prices. The reaction in the latter part of forenoon did not extend to as much as one point in any stock.

THE PAYMENT OF POLL TAX.

To the Editor of the Alexandria Gazette:

Sir:—It is unfortunate that just before every primary election it is charged that some candidates are paying, or causing to be paid, the poll taxes of voters. It is to be hoped that such charges are not true in any case. The constitution provides that the poll taxes shall be paid by the voters "personally" at least six months before the election at which they offer to vote. The debates in the convention which framed the constitution show that this period was fixed because it was not thought that any candidate would pay these taxes that long before the election. But as primaries are being held five or six months before the regular elections, it is possible for candidates to pay these taxes almost immediately before the primaries, which really select the officers and representatives in many parts of the State.

It was evidently intended by the constitution that every voter should pay his own tax, but the legislature has failed to make that intention effective. The writer introduced a series of bills with that object at the last session, but, in the rush of other business, they were not fully considered. It is earnestly desired that the right-thinking people and papers in the state will take this matter up and vigorously demand the enactment of laws which will prevent, as far as possible, the corrupt payment of poll taxes. The old poll tax law became a prolific cause of corruption and the new one will have a like effect unless carefully safeguarded.

It would seem that now while the candidates for the General Assembly are being nominated is the proper time to agitate this matter and for the people to require of every candidate to pledge himself to support a measure with that purpose.

The poll tax should be required to be paid nine months before the election so as to have it paid at least some months before the primary. The treasurers should be prohibited from receiving the poll tax of any person tendered by another unless the latter presents a written authority to be filed in the office of the treasurer and open to public inspection. Under the law now in force, as construed by the Attorney General, the treasurers are bound to receive the tax no matter who tenders it.

The payment of the poll tax of any person by another for the purpose of securing or influencing that person's vote should be made a misdemeanor, punishable by fine, imprisonment and disqualification for office. Any person who allows his poll tax to be paid corruptly should be similarly punished and not allowed to vote afterward.

It is possible that our present statute against bribery, known as the Barksdale law, would apply to these cases, for it is a very broad and sweeping statute. It would be interesting if the grand juries would summon some treasurers before them and also a few hundred of those whose taxes are said to have been paid by other people. A few indictments would furnish an excellent opportunity to test the law fully. If it is found inadequate, other laws should be at once passed. Every payment of another's poll tax may not be corrupt, but the practice is sure to have a corrupt tendency. A good man may occasionally err in that way through excess of zeal, but a bad man is more apt to do so through malice aforethought.

Every self-respecting Virginian ought to be willing to pay his poll tax for the privilege of voting. It is a legal and moral obligation for him to pay it whether he votes or not. A man who is too mean to be willing, or too worthless to be able to contribute a dollar and fifty cents a year to support the public schools and the local governments is an undesirable citizen and should not be permitted to vote. And the danger is that this class will make no effort to pay their poll tax but more and more of them will wait each year for some one to pay the tax for them and the State will consequently be depived of more and more of its revenue.

Above all things, the people should set their faces sternly against the corrupt use of money in elections. It is debasing and demoralizing alike to the people and to their representatives. If it is permitted a poor man will find it impossible to aspire to office in Virginia. If a candidate spends his own money lavishly to get himself elected he will be tempted to be a grafter after his election in order to get his money back. But if other individuals or private interests or corporations put up the money for him to use corruptly they will expect to own him after his election. It is a matter of common knowledge and of common shame that many so-called public servants are the mere tools and puppets of special interests.

The legislature can do much to purify the ballot in this State, and it should, to that end, enact a fair and effective law in regard to the payment of poll taxes. The independent and unpurchasable press of the State can do much by the exposure and condemnation of wrong practices, but the people can do most of all by visiting sure and humiliating defeat upon every candidate who employs corrupt means. When crooked politics ceases to be successful they will cease altogether, and not before. Respectfully,

LEWIS H. MACHEN.

The Haywood Trial.

Boise, June 6.—It was a complete battery of legal guns that assembled about the defence's table when Harry Orchard resumed the stand in the Haywood trial today.

Lawyer Wilson, former partner of Judge Wood, retained because of local knowledge of conditions, who has been ill some time, hobbled in on a cane and took a seat between Richardson and Darrow. Orchard was brought in from Hawley's office surrounded by a heavy guard of armed men.

At once escorted to the witness stand he resumed his story. He declared he knew J. W. Wolf, who was collector for Pettibone, and the latter sent him a registered letter from Denver containing money. Orchard said he got his information about Bradley from a servant girl named Bell, employed by him, and his cook, Mrs. Cole.

Orchard said he left San Francisco two weeks after the Bradley explosion. Before leaving Pettibone wired him and he returned to Denver. He got there before Christmas, 1904, and disguised himself as a soldier, wearing smoked glasses. Orchard at once telephone Pettibone, who came to his room with Steve Adams. Pettibone, he declared, told him he had done a fair job on Bradley's, but should have killed him. Orchard went to Adams house where he remained in hiding for a while. He lived there until April 1905. Orchard swore that he saw Haywood on the night he arrived in Denver and declared the latter had said Bradley mained would be a living example of what happened to men who fight the federation. He said Haywood told him he could have all the money he wanted, but must keep out of sight. Orchard's memory was only strong on these points. He could not remember anything else of the conversation.

During his stay in Denver he saw Haywood and Pettibone fortnightly at the former's residence and the latter's store. They wanted to help assassinate Judge Grabbert of the Supreme Court who declined to release Moyer. Moyer had been arrested in Telluride. Orchard and Adams hung about Judge Gabbert's house with shot guns for some time, but did not see him. They then unsuccessfully tried to kill Governor Peabody. According to Orchard, Peabody's death was desired by Haywood, who said that if Peabody again was slated as governor the organization would have to leave Colorado. Orchard, Adams and Ackerman constructed a lead bomb of power and giant caps and put it under the sidewalk at Grant avenue and thirteenth street at the spot where Peabody crossed daily en route to the capitol.

The bomb was put in position early in the morning, about nine o'clock. He stretched a wire from the bomb and covered everything with snow. As the governor came along two coal wagons passed and were on the wire when the governor reached the spot, but the bomb could not be exploded. Orchard took the bomb home.

He reported the failure to Pettibone, who said it was too bad. Adams, he swore, destroyed the bomb. They made a couple of other attempts to shoot Governor Peabody and Judge Gambert but in each instance failed. They also tried, at Haywood's instance, to assassinate Frank Harne, of Philadelphia, president of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company. They hung around Harne's house, but failed to seehim.

Haywood, witness declared told him that David Moffat, the Denver financier was behind the entire opposition to the federation and asked him to investigate Moffat's residence to see if he could get an opportunity to kill. He and Adams spent several days watching Moffat and finally decided it would be too risky a job to put him out of the way.

Later Haywood purchased for them a horse and buggy so they could get about handily and unnoticed.

Having failed with Judge Gabbert, witness swore that Haywood asked him to try to kill Supreme Court Judge Goddard.

Earthquake Shocks.

London, June 6.—That a violent earthquake has occurred somewhere in the Pacific region, or perhaps along the South American coast, is the opinion of scientists here, following reports last night from various localities announcing that shocks had been recorded. There is every indication, it is said, that the earthquake was a violent one, and news of the exact locality is awaited with interest.

The news of the probable location of the earthquake comes from Guayaquill, Ecuador, where two slight shocks were felt. It is believed that further south, or perhaps in the interior of Ecuador, the shock was more violent.

The shock was recorded by seismographs all over Europe, in Havana and as far north as Albany, N. Y. A shock of such character, scientist here believe, must have wrought much damage, unless it occurred far out in the Pacific ocean.

Dispatches from Ecuador Saturday night announced an earthquake there, and it is feared there may have been a repetition.

The Eddy Case.

Concord, N. H., June 6.—Although the friends of Mrs. Eddy have been defeated in their first attempt to block the suit brought by her relatives to compel an accounting for her property, there is little hope that the main question will reach trial for many months. Hardly had Judge Chamberlain denied the three trustees permission to intervene as "next friends" yesterday when the Eddy attorneys moved that the court state in writing all his reasons for denying their former motion. They also presented a motion bearing Mrs. Eddy's signature asking for an immediate investigation of the question whether or not the litigation brought by the so-called "next friends" should be longer maintained in view of her personal denouncement. Mrs. Eddy's counsel further asked that the aged leader be examined at her own home, and to this Judge Chamberlain agreed. A master probably will be appointed to visit Pleasant View and examine Mrs. Eddy. Two motions will be heard Monday.

General Revolt Predicted.

London, June 6.—A general revolt in Russia, following the dissolution of the Douma which revolutionaries hope to force in the near future, is predicted by the Evening News as the result of the recent meeting of Russian revolutionists in London, held in connection with the Russian democratic congress. The extremists won a distinct victory in the conference The News asserts, and the revolutionary movement will follow. The uprising, however, is not expected before the end of July or August.

According to the programme agreed upon, it is asserted, the social democratic party in the Douma will play the part of wrecking that institution. By opposing both the government and the liberalist it is proposed to bring the parliament into disgrace in the eyes of the Russian people, making dissolution necessary.

This will be the signal for the revolt. Men of great experience in the revolutionery movement have been selected to manage this campaign. The revolutionary propaganda will be pushed during the next few weeks so that the country will be ready for the uprising when the the signal is given.

Anniversary Celebration.

Stockholm, Sweden, June 6.—The fiftieth anniversary of King Oscar II and Queen Sophia was celebrated here today with extensive ceremonies. Messages of congratulation were received from all the crowned heads of Europe as well as from most of the foreign ministers and prominent persons over the entire world. Members of the diplomatic corps assigned to the Swedish court called in a body to pay their respects and wish the aged king and his consort many years of happy domestic life.

For the people of Sweden there was a double significance in today's celebration, as it marks the return to the throne of King Oscar after his temporary abdication in favor of Crown Prince Gustav.

When King Oscar laid down the reins of government on December 14, 1904, it was feared he would never be able to assume the duties of governing the country again, but his health has improved to such an extent that he is now able to again take up the cares of his country.

Another Moral Crusade.

London, June 6.—Living statue exhibitions, the latest fad to which the music halls have been running, are just at present the object of attack of the good moral crusade started by prominent church people. The crusaders declare the shows are corrupting the morals of the community and exceed the bounds of decency. The statues themselves which appear on the various stages, are the principal defenders of the exhibition, and a merry war is on between the well-formed models and grave divines. Just at present the battle is being fought out before the music halls committee of the London council. A delegation of reformers, headed by the bishops of London, and representing Protestant, Catholic and Jewish churches, today made a vigorous protest to the committee. When the churchmen had left the council listened to the arguments of the statues. If the committee wills to suppress the exhibitions the churchmen say they will take the matter before the whole council.

Attacked by Lion.

New York, June 6.—Dewey, a lion who was born in captivity, leaped across his cage in the Central Park menagerie last night as James Coyle one of the keepers, put his hand on the bars, and grabbing hold of the keeper's right arm lacerated it and bit off one of his fingers. Coyle managed to free himself from the animal's grasp and fell to the floor unconscious. As Coyle was about to clean Dewey's cage he dropped a cloth on the floor. As he reached down to pick it up he put his right hand on one of the bars of the cage. Dewey grabbed his hand, and it was only after a severe and painful tussel that Coyle freed himself. Dewey swallowed the keeper's finger, and for nearly an hour he and the other animals were in a frenzy.

Disorder in Havana.

Havana, Cuba, June 6.—A fight to the death between Cuban cigar makers and the Anglo-American capitalists who control the tobacco trusts, has been declared by the striking workmen in the cigar factories, following the refusal last night of the cigar workers to accept the three and one half per cent. advance in wages offered by the trust as a compromise.

The strikers insist their chief demand that they be paid in American instead of Spanish money must be granted.

Gen. Pino Guerrax brought about the conference between the strikers and trust officials when the compromise was rejected.

Mission Station Destroyed.

Shanghai, China, June 6.—A mission station in Ksih-Sien, a town in the province of Sze-chuen, almost on the border of Thibet, has been destroyed by a mob, according to a report received here. Several missionaries are said to have been killed or injured. The point is so remote that few details have reached here. It is not known whether the attack on missionaries was due to a local outbreak or the revolutionary movement which has been in away for two weeks. Hitherto the rebels have refrained from attacking foreigners or missionaries declaring their revolt is aimed only against the Manchu dynasty.

The Gould Divorce Case.

New York, June 6.—Justice McCall in the Supreme Court today reserved decision on after hearing the arguments of Attorneys on the application of Howard Gould to strike from the complaint of his wife, Kathryn Clemmons Gould, the former actress, who is suing him for separation certain paragraphs alleged to be scandalous and irrelavent.

Mysterious Death.

New York, June 6.—John Mooney this afternoon identified the body of a sixteen-year-old girl taken from the Harlem river early today as that of his daughter Gertrude, who disappeared from home on May 10. Gertrude Mooney was a promising student in the St. Thomas Art Studio. On the day she disappeared she had been taken to a specialist by her mother as she had been suffering from spinal trouble. The physicians told the girl she could never be cured permanently and she had been greatly downcast by this.

It is believed she took her life in a fit of despondency. From its appearance the body had been in the water more than ten days, so the girl may have wondered about the city several days after she disappeared. From the description of the girl it was at first thought she was Floretta Whaley, the heiress who eloped from Hempstead, L. I., recently with Rev. Jere Knode Cook.

Japanese Complaint.

Tokio, June 6.—The Nichi Nichi says: "Even traditional friendship will not escape a rupture should incidents like those that have occurred in San Francisco be repeated. Whether the sufferers are school children or restaurant keepers and the site of persecution to be limited to California, does not alter the fact that our compatriots are victims of anti-Japanese outrages. Japanese go there under treaty protection. President Roosevelt's enlightened message to the last Congress was received here with eminent satisfaction but the actual developments since are a total failure. What we want are not so many expressions of civilized sentiments, but one act of efficient protection of the treaty rights of the Japanese."

Elopement.

New York, June 6.—News from Los Angeles today is to the effect that the elopement of Carlos Wood, a New York lawyer, with Miss Aolga Good, a beautiful girl of good family, has created a stir. News recalled certain escapades of the young man several years ago in the Tenderloin which brought him in contract with the police and started much talk. He went to South Africa and served against the Boers, winning a distinguished service medal. Since then he had dropped out of sight, and few of his friends even knew where he was. He appeared at Los Angeles, and ran away in an automobile from a crowd of reporters who tried to talk to him. It is reported a marriage occurred at Pasadena.

Exodus of Coreans.

Vladivostok, June 6.—The Corean exodus into Primorskaya, a large province of Asiatic Russia, amounts to nearly two thousand persons weekly, many of whom are leaving Corea on account of the Japanese conditions. Twenty-five thousand persons have crossed the border on foot since January, and eleven thousand have reached Vladivostok by sea. This influx has complicated the problem of Russian immigration. The government officials, who are expecting sixty thousand Russians to reach Primorskaya this season, yesterday began to relieve the congestion by sending a shiploads of immigrations to the Kamtschatka fisheries.

Seaman's Strike.

Paris, June 6.—The strike of seamen which has tied up shipping for nearly a week is practically over. Work was resumed by the strikers at Marseilles today and at Havre the sailors have voted to return to work provisionally. An appeal will be made to the chamber of deputies by the seamen to grant the increased pensions demanded and work will be resumed pending parliamentary action. Unless the pensions are granted and full satisfaction is given the seamen by the government the strike will be resumed.

Airships for German Government.

Berlin, June 6.—Airships made by the Wright Brothers of Dayton, O., are to be furnished to the German government within a few months, according to a report current here. Arrangements have been made, according to the report, whereby the inventors of the flying machines are to receive $10,000 for each airship. How many flying machines are to be offered at present is not known. The American inventors are now on their way here from Paris where they purchased a number of light motors.

Fined Ten Dollars.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., June 6.—Because he emulated the example of the famous tenor, George Caruso (no relative of Caruso of monkey house fame) was arrested charged with embracing Mrs. Petronia Dolinis. In passing sentence Alderman Brown said: "Caruso, I will fine you a similar amount as your illustrious example, the tenor, had to pay. Don't take an appeal and keep me waiting as long as he did the New York magistrate. Ten dollars, please." The fine was paid on the spot.

Negro Caused Excitement.

New York, June 6.—A wild panic occurred on a Third avenue car today when James Carter, a negro, drew a revolver and threatened the conductor who demanded his fare. The passengers made a hurried scramble for the doors. Several were tramped on but none was seriously hurt. The negro was captured after a chase and held on a charge of carrying concealed weapons.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Murder in Fairfax.

As was stated in the Gazette, Isaac Frank Woodyard, a merchant, was instantly killed and J. T. Fairfax, a farmer, barely escaped a similar fate at Farr postoffice, near Clifton, Fairfax county, late Tuesday afternoon, when George C. Fairfax, a mail carrier, armed with a gun, terrorized the village. He fired once at Woodyard at close range, and then made a frantic effort to shoot Fairfax, his brother-in-law. Three shots were fired at the latter but none took effect. Immediately after the shooting Fairfax ran into the woods. The fugitive eluded the county officers until yesterday evening. He was then captured not far from the village, and was taken to Fairfax Court house, where he was lodged in jail. It is said that the trouble followed a dispute as to where the polls for the coming democratic primary should be located. After it had been decided to hold the voting at Richardson's store, against the protest of Fairfax, he left the party in a sullen humor. Fairfax went at once to his home, about a half-mile away, where he armed himself with a breech-loading shotgun. When he returned to the village, Fairfax pushed on back in the room to a point in front of Woodyard, who was standing behind the counter. As the merchant looked around, Fairfax placed the weapon close to his breast and fired. The charge entered just above his heart, Woodyard falling dead in his tracks.

Mr. Woodyard was about forty-five years of age. He resided with his family, consisting of his wife and two children, at Farr postoffice. So far as is known, he had never had any trouble with Fairfax before the dispute over the voting place, which was so trivial that no one attached any importance to it at the time.

It is said that Fairfax's mind has been impaired for some time, and it is believed by his friends that he was insane when he did the shooting. Before leaving his house on the eve of the tragedy, it is said, he declared that he intended to kill two people and then to take his own life. A few months ago, it is said, he made an effort to hang himself, but was discovered in the act by his wife, who thwarted his design. In addition to his wife, he has a family of several children. Some time ago he was given the contract for carrying the mail between Fairfax Court House and Farr postoffice but it is said that most of the work was done by his wife. He is a son of E. S. Fairfax.

Badly Mixed Up.

Abraham Brown, of Winterton, N. Y., had a very remarkable experience; He says: "Doctors got badly mixed up over me; one said heart disease; two said it was kidney; the fourth, blood poison, and the fifth stomach and liver trouble; but none of them helped me; so my wife advised trying Electric Bitters, which are restoring me to perfect health. One bottle did me more good than all the five doctors prescribed." Guaranted to cure blood poison, weakness and all stomach, liver and kidney complaints, by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggist, 50c.

Leased Hyde's Stable.

New York, June 6.—Alfred G. Vanderbilt, who is fast gaining prominence as a lover of blooded horses, today closed the deal for a long term lease of James Hazen Hyde's private stable, in west Fifty-eighth street. Mr. Vanderbilt has a long string of valuable horses in London and will be a prominent exhibitor at the horse show to be held there soon. He also has a few yearlings at Newport and some in this city which will be removed from his present stable to the new place, for which he will pay Mr. Hyde about $5,000 a year.

Good News.

One of the most gratifying side lights on the pending campaign for the Congressional nomination in this District comes from Mr. Rixey's own county (Culpeper) to the effect that Mr. Carlin will carry that county by a majority over the field, and that Mr. Rixey's own voting precinct (Brandy) will likewise give Mr. Carlin a majority over all of his opponents. A gentleman from Culpeper, who is fully informed as to conditions in that county recently stated that had Mr. Rixey been asked for an opinion as to his logical successor in Congress, he believes he would have unhesitatingly replied, "Charles C. Carlin of Alexandria City." Whatever may be said as to the attitude of Mr. Rixey's friends in the District, and however opinions may differ upon this point, the fact that Mr. Rixey's own county, where his life-time friends live and vote, is lined up almost solidly for Carlin, argues well for his nomination, which we confidently predict. — Farquir Democrat.

Heavy Fine.

Charged with having fraudulently obtained money from John Healton in a game of craps, Adam Regdal, a young white man, was fined $500 and costs and sentenced to twelve months in jail by Police Justice Simmons in Richmond Tuesday. An appeal was noted, Justice Simmons stating that he would require $2,000 bail. According to Healton, he was gotten into a game yesterday by Regdal and was fleeced of $76. He then made complaint to the police, and Regdal was taken into custody. It is claimed that he attempted at the time to throw away a pair of loaded dice, which were afterward found. Regdal stated that he had been approached by a man, who carried him to the complainant's room, and then, after many inducements, persuaded him to get in a game then in progress. He denied having any dice in his possession and claimed that he won the money honestly. There is a peculiar section in regard to this offense. It provides that anyone who shall win money by fraudulent gaming shall be fined a sum not less than five times the amount of money lost by the complainant and shall be confined in jail not more than twelve months.

Every Man His Own Doctor.

The average man cannot afford to employ a physician for every slight ailment or injury that may occur in his family, nor can he afford to neglect them, as so slight an injury as the scratch of a pin has been known to cause the loss of a limb. Hence every man must from necessity be his own doctor for this class of ailments. Success often depends upon prompt treatment, which can only be had when suitable medicines are kept at hand. Chamberlain's Remedies have been in the market for many years and enjoy a good reputation.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for bowel complaints.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for coughs, cold, croup and whooping cough.

Chamberlain's Pain Balm(an antiseptic liniment) for cuts, bruises, burns, sprains, swellings, lame back and rheumanic pains.

Chamberlain's Salve for diseases of the skin.

One bottle of each of these five preparations costs but $1.25. For sale by W. F. Creighton & Co. and Gibson & Timberman.

Croker Not Invited to Dinner.

King Edward gave his customary Derby day dinner last night to the members of the Jockey Club, but Richard Croker, the winner of yesterday's great race, was not one of the guests. There may have been other Derby day dinners at Buckingham Palace at which owners of victorious colts were not present, but if there have been such absences, none of them possessed the significance that attaches to Mr. Croker's absence from the king's table. Mr. Croker was not invited to Buckingham Palace because the king, as is well known, felt that he was not a proper person to be invited there. When asked about the king's failure to invite him to the Derby day dinner, Mr. Croker said: "I don't care about that. At least, I won, whether they like it or not. I dine here with my family, and am quite content."

I will mail you free, to prove merit, samples of my Dr. Shoop's Restorative, and my Book on either Dyspepsia, The Heart, or The Kidneys. Trouble of the Stomach, Heart or Kidneys, are merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. Don't make the common error of treating symptoms only. Symptom treatment is treating the result of your ailment, and not the cause. Weak Stomach nerves—the inside nerves—means Stomach weakness, always. And the Heart, and Kidneys, as well, have their controlling or inside nerves. Weaken these nerves, and you inevitably have weak vital organs. Here's where Dr. Shoop's Restorative has made its fame. No other remedy even claims to treat the "inside nerves." Also for bloating, biliousness, bad breath or complexion, use Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Write me today for sample and free Book. Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. The Restorative sold by F. S. Leadbeater & Sons.

A Real Wonderland.

South Dakota, with its rich silver mines, bonanza farms, wide ranges and strange natural formations, is a veritable wonderland. At Mound City, in the home of Mrs. E. D. Clapp, a wonderful case of healing has lately occurred. Her son seemed near death with lung and throat trouble. "Exhausting coughing spells occurred every five minutes," writes Mrs. Clapp, "when I began giving Dr. King's New Discovery, the great medicine, that saved his life and completely cured him." Guaranteed for coughs and colds, throat and lung troubles, by F. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggists. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

FOR OVER SIXTY YEARS.

AN OLD AND WELL-TRIED REMEDY.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for over sixty years by millions of mothers for their children while teething with perfect success. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic and is the best remedy for Diarrhœa. Is pleasant to the taste. Sold by druggists in every part of the world. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Its value is incalculable. Be sure and ask for Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup and take no other kind.

Women's Pains

"I was a total wreck," writes Mrs. Beulah Rowley, of Champoeg, Oregon, "from pains I had suffered, for 4 years, every month. Sometimes I would be unconscious for 12 hours at a stretch. I did not know that anything could stop the pain entirely, but Wine of Cardui did. I advise all women suffering with painful periods to use Cardui and be relieved."

It does this by regulating the functions and toning up all the Internal female organs to health. It is a pure, specific, reliable, female remedy, with a record of 70 years of success. It has benefited a million others. Why not you? Try it.
